

Tenth Annual Louis J. Luzbetak, S.V.D. Lecture on Mission and Culture

“Missiology’s Future at the Intersection of the Intercultural and the Interreligious”

Presented by Robert J. Schreiter, C.P.P.S.

Robert Schreiter, C.P.P.S., Vatican II Professor of Theology; Theol. dr., University of Nijmegen; Study: Oxford University.

Robert Schreiter is a member of the Missionaries of the Precious Blood. He has published seventeen books in the areas of inculturation, world mission, and reconciliation. Among them are Constructing Local Theologies (1985), The New Catholicity (1997), Reconciliation: Mission and Ministry in a Changing Social Order (1992) and, The Ministry of Reconciliation: Spirituality and Strategies (1998). His works have appeared in twenty languages. The general editor of the “Faith and Cultures” series for Orbis books, Schreiter is also editor of the journal Studies in Interreligious Dialogue, and serves on editorial boards for International Journal of Practical Theology and Theological Studies. He is a past President of the American Society of Missiology and of the Catholic Theological Society of America.

Monday, March 1, 2010

4:00 p.m. - Lecture

Reception Following

Catholic Theological Union
5401 S. Cornell Ave., Chicago
Building 5416 — Second Floor

Complimentary parking available in the CTU garage

For additional information, please contact Steve Bevans, S.V.D. at sbevans@ctu.edu or 773-371-5500

